Mullion is a small town on the western side of the Lizard peninsula about 7 miles from Helston and 5 miles from Lizard town. It is a beautiful spot and contains a Church of considerable interest to tourists. The edifice was restored in 1870, but so carefully that it has lost none of its ancient appearance. Portions of the old wood screen still remain, and the carved bench ends are considered the finest in the county.

Mulion is a small town on the western side of the Lizard peninsula about 7 miles from Helston and 5 miles from Lizard town. It is a beautiful spot and contains a church of considerable interest to tourists. The edifice was erected in 1834 and is a fine example of the style of the period. It has lost none of its ancient appearance. Portions of the old wood screen still remain and the carved stone fonts are considered the finest in the county.

There is a much better view
of the Lizard from Mulion than from any other point
of view. I might be wrong but I am not sure.
